Fokker DR1 - Then there were dandelions but the tail ticks-on, with the main section ready to shape and the elevator in-process of assembly. There were lots of 1/2" notches to cut and the odd rib. It's hoped the red skin will hide a plethora of sins!

Next on the list is the Undercarriage Wing. This is just a shaped bar on the Camel but the Fokker used a reduced wing cross-section. Here is the master rib ready to duplicate on some 3/8" cedar slabs:

CLOCKS If you listen very carefully you can hear Paul's old clock ticking. ...

Sopwith Camel. Fergie is plugging away at the skinning of our first aeroplane. A few additions around the wing-slots etc, were added by Terry R. to support the plastic sheet.

 JIGS & RULES *****

Al B. has a lovely selection of widgets in a myriad of part boxes, the what and where-of is still a mystery. Might someone have the means, fortitude and maybe even a buddy to help create a binder, mark each box with a letter, insert a photograph with a number edited into each pocket and add a second page containing a description of their content? For bolt identification we have available a Screw Checker for NC, NF and NS up to size 32.

BOX A

- 1. Nail, 1", Flat Head, White....

Might we even consider a spreadsheet which was duplicated on our web page and thus open for searching?

 MISCELLANEOUS *****

Don't forget breakfast on May 21st

I've collected two boxes of springs over the years so should you be missing one, you're welcome to dig through them for a match.

Road Kill. After an evenings coffee at McDonalds I continued my walk on Hwy-7 and then home on Franktown Rd. The item right of the hanger was my first find, it's a 9 x 5 x 4" steel box with a light on one end! Fancy that hitting your windshield?

Rhyddhawyd y cynnyrch diweddaraf i'w ail-ryddhau, yn wreiddiol, rhwng 1994 a 2006. Yn eu plith mae ep's ac albyms gan rai o fandiau a cherddorion amlycaf y cyfnod, rhai fel Catatonia, Meic Stevens, Mike Peters, Bryn Fôn.

Gyda diolch i'r rhai sydd wedi gweld yn dda i'w hanfon i mewn ffotograffau ac erthyglau etc.
